In the chapel of St. Michael's Presentation convent on Wednesday morning of last week Miss Agnes Clare Loftus, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Loftus, was married to Henry W. Lane of Boston. The Rev. James W. Loftus, only relative and a few intimate friends witnessed the ceremony. Mr. and Mrs. Lane left afterward for the South on their wedding trip.

Miss Hazel Jessamine Fogg, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Fogg of Waterbury, Conn., was married to Lieut. Frederick Buell Webster, U. S. A., in the Second Congregational Church of Waterbury last week. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Dr. John Gaylord, pastor emeritus, assisted by the Rev. Robert E. Brown, Mr. Howard Babcock of Brooklyn, acted as matron of honor, and the bridesmaids were the Misses Hazel Everett, Florence J. Mills, Grace Jones of Waterbury, and Marguerite Krause of Marlton, Ohio.

Bradford Webster of Louisville was his brother's best man. The ushers were Benjamin Webster of Washington; Lieut. Levi Wilcox, U. S. A.; L. Russell Carter and Maltby Smith.

Of all the summer resorts Newport comes in for the first place. This year there will be many diplomats and most of the prominent villas will be opened. At the present time the simple life is being enjoyed. Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Stuyvesant Chanler, who have not been there in several years, are now at the villa of Winthrop Chanler on the cliffs, where they will remain until the autumn. Mr. and Mrs. George L. Rives and Miss Mildred Rives, who are now in Europe, will arrive here early next month and will go at once to their villa. Mr. and Mrs. Eugene S. Reynal of White Plains have finally secured a house and will be at the Thorne villa in Narragansett avenue. Mr. Reynal will play polo throughout the summer.

There will be another debutante during the summer, Miss Winthrop, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Egerton L. Winthrop, Jr., who has been in Europe all winter with her mother. Mr. and Mrs. Winthrop will be at the villa of Egerton L. Winthrop, Sr.

Miss and Mrs. Arthur Iselin, Kenneth Bodd and William W. Hoffman, who motored from New York last week after taking luncheon with Mrs. John R. Drexel, went by automobile to New London for the varsity race. Mrs. William B. Leeds will arrive from England much earlier than she had expected and will be at Fairlawn, the Burden villa, by the end of next week. In place of sailing on the Mauretania yesterday she will leave this week by the Kronprinzessin Cecilie. It is understood that her villa, Rough Point, which she purchased from Mr. and Mrs. Frederick W. Vanderbilt some years ago, is now in the market.

It is proposed to hold a lawn fête for the benefit of St. Mary's Orphanage of Providence, R. I., at the country place of Mr. and Mrs. William R. Hunter on July 16, although Mrs. Hunter will be in Europe. There will be all sorts of attractions and among the women who will be at the various booths are Mrs. Arthur Curtis James, Mrs. John J. Mason, Mrs. French E. Chadwick, Mrs. Frederick P. Sands, Mrs. Stuart Duncan, Mrs. Dudley Davis, Mrs. Arthur Tuckerman, Mrs. Joseph H. Wilbur and Mrs. William Grosvenor.

Miss Anna L. Short, who is now in Europe, will arrive here early next month and will go at once to their villa. Mr. and Mrs. Eugene S. Reynal of White Plains have finally secured a house and will be at the Thorne villa in Narragansett avenue. Mr. Reynal will play polo throughout the summer.

Casino left for the boat races at New London. Mrs. Reginald Vanderbilt has gone to Europe to join her husband and they will not return to Sandy Point Farm until late in the summer. Mrs. William Grosvenor will give a party at her villa on the night of July 4, with entertainment appropriate to the national holiday.

Mr. and Mrs. Daniel B. Fearing, who were married in New York yesterday, will not be in Newport until late in the autumn. They will go to Japan for their wedding trip.

Four debutantes of next winter, Miss Julia Edey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Edey; Miss Pauline Clarkson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Livingston Clarkson; Miss Margaret C. Overton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clough Cosby Overton; and Miss Helene Underwood, daughter of Russell Sage Underwood, have started in their philanthropic work even before being elected to the Junior League, to which all debutantes aspire.

These four girls have collected funds to take from time to time children from the Kips Bay Day Nursery to the Roloff-Janson Fresh Air Home in Tivoli, N. Y. Last Friday they took to the home half a dozen boys, and it is proposed to take twelve children at a time every three weeks during the summer to this home. The children will be selected from different parishes and day nurseries of the city, and they will be given an outing that is sure to be of benefit.

Mr. and Mrs. William Payne Thompson are now in England, where they will remain for the summer. They will go to Scotland for the grouse shooting in August and will not return to their place in Westbury, L. I., until late in the autumn.

Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin F. Yoakum and Miss Bessie Yoakum have gone to their country place, Tywacana Hills, in Farmingdale, L. I., for the summer. Miss Yoakum will make a visit to her sister, Mrs. Pauline Fiedick, in Newport during the season. Mr. and Mrs. Fiedick have taken the Blight Villa in Bellevue avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Palmer Knapp and the latter's son, Archibald G. McIlwaine 2d, who have been in England for several months, will arrive this week on the Mauretania and will soon afterward return to their place, Tencere, in Southampton, L. I.

Mr. Robert C. Morris left New York last week, taking with her several friends, for her ranch in Montana, which is about twenty-five miles from Banff. Mr. Morris will join her in August and they will return to New York in October.

this flower reach greater perfection. Many touring parties are coming in, especially to see this flower coloring the mountains.

The dog show will be held September 27.

shires this week are Mrs. Delancy Kane, Miss Sybil Kane, Miss Iselin, John T. Hill, Mrs. J. M. Dickinson, Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Whitney and Mrs. Paul R. Frothingham of Boston.

Mrs. Joseph Willard of Richmond, wife of ex-Lieut. Gov. Willard of Virginia, and owner of the Willard Hotel, Washington, is negotiating for a villa here and Justice Horace H. Lorton of the United States Supreme Court is planning to occupy a bungalow with his family.

Mr. and Mrs. M. E. Ingalls, Jr. of New York will arrive next week to stay until autumn, and Julius Walsh of St. Louis is expected July 1 with his family to occupy one of the cottages.

The new fifteen-hole putting green on the Homestead golf course near the new tennis courts is proving popular with golf players who wish to develop their putting. Among those who have used it almost daily this week are Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Keith, and Mr. and Mrs. J. McV. Breed of New York; Mr. and Mrs. V. Stockwell of Buffalo; Mr. Albert Logan and F. P. Smithley of Philadelphia; Harry Wardman of Washington; and R. C. Dunbar of Canada.

Baron and Baroness Rosenkrantz, who play an excellent game of tennis, have been much on the Homestead courts this week, as have Mr. and Mrs. Kilburn and George Goodwin.

Mrs. Frederick Sterry came down for a day or two the first of this week, but returned to her cottage at Seabright where the family will be until the 1st of August.

Mrs. John Clinton Gray before her departure for New York motored with Mrs. Robert Waller of New York to White Sulphur Springs. They took a basket luncheon with them and returned the same day.

Mrs. Ethelbert Talbot left the Springs Thursday for New York and sailed from there to-day for Europe, where she will spend the rest of the summer.

Miss Helen Norris arrived at the Manse this week from New York, bringing with her Mrs. C. A. Nelson of Colorado.

Mrs. Alexander Gordon, Jr., Alexander Gordon 3d, Miss Sarah E. Fischer and Fred C. Fischer made up a party of Baltimoreans who arrived at the Homestead this week by automobile. After spending some time here they will go on to White Sulphur Springs.

Miss Sallie Bird and Miss Adele Fishback of Baltimore arrived this week for the season. Mrs. Calderon Casalis of Washington, who has a villa here, sailed this week for Europe to be gone the greater part of the summer.

Mrs. Robert A. Black and her son, Donald Black, will leave the first of July to spend some time in western Pennsylvania.

Mrs. Archibald McCrae will leave the last of June to spend most of the summer at Petersburg, Va. She has with her this week Mrs. George Alexander Pare of Cumberland, Md.

Under the direction of Mario Arnelini, director of the Arnelini orchestra, the young people here are planning to give later in the season an amateur performance of "The Mikado." Rehearsals are being held each week.

Among the arrivals at the Homestead this week have been Mr. and Mrs. John C. Calhoun, Dr. and Mrs. Samuel Milbank, Miss Julia Calhoun, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Jackson and family, Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Little, Ernest C. Bliss, Mr. and Mrs. James McV. Breed, F. P. NEWPORT BEGINS TO BE GAY.

Arrivals of the Week—Roller Skating Parties in Prospect.

NEWPORT, R. I., June 22.—The prospect is that roller skating parties will be popular among the members of the summer colony this year. Roller skating has been gaining recruits among the cottagers for some seasons and the weekly roller skating parties given by the officers of the naval training station, in one of the big barracks have been well attended even during the winter.

The governors of the Newport Casino, quick to realize the wants of the skaters and patrons, have included in the extensive improvements this spring the transformation of the theatre building so that it can be used for skating parties.

No parties have been held yet, but a few skaters have tried the floor and it is said to be in fine condition.

The Casino is in excellent condition of Richmond has opened another cottage and Mr. and Mrs. Harry Wardman of Washington, who spent last summer at the Homestead, are occupying a third cottage.

Mrs. Joseph Willard of Richmond, wife of ex-Lieut. Gov. Willard of Virginia, and owner of the Willard Hotel, Washington, is negotiating for a villa here and Justice Horace H. Lorton of the United States Supreme Court is planning to occupy a bungalow with his family.

No parties have been held yet, but a few skaters have tried the floor and it is said to be in fine condition.

The Casino is in excellent condition

for the summer. The governors have expended a large amount of money in repairs and improvements and the players in the national tennis tournament in August will find numerous changes for their convenience. There has been added a new grand stand that will double the former seating capacity around the championship court.

The Newport social season is getting under way very fast now. All of the larger estates are in the pink of condition. The lawns and gardens, despite the late spring and the persistent cool weather, have seldom looked better. This is especially true of the estates of Dr. and Mrs. Richard V. Mattison, Mr. and Mrs. George E. Rives, Mr. and Mrs. Harman J. Perry, Senator and Mrs. George Peabody Wetmore, Mr. and Mrs. Edward J. Berwind, Mrs. James P. Kernochan and Mrs. Hamilton McK. Twombly.

The last week has seen the arrival of a number of cottagers for the season, including former Commanders and Mrs. Cornelius Vanderbilt, Mrs. Kernochan, the Misses Ellen F. and Ida Mason, Miss Helen Brice, Mrs. W. S. Neilson, Mr. and Mrs. John Neilson, Mr. and Mrs. George P. Messervy, Mrs. George B. Sutterlin, Mr. and Mrs. Austin L. Sande, Mrs. Hermann Oelrichs and Mr. and Mrs. Charles M. Bull.

It is learned during the week that Mr. and Mrs. Stuyvesant Fish would arrive at Crossways on June 28. Mrs. Leeds, according to report, is coming much earlier than was first expected. Mr. and Mrs. George B. de Forest of New York were here recently looking over the Train villa preparatory to installing themselves here for the season late in the month, and Mr. and Mrs. J. Stewart Barney of New York, who have been absentees for a season or two, have been here cottage hunting. Mr. and Mrs. J. Gordon Douglass of New York and Mrs. William Jay of New York and Mrs. Whitney Wilson of Washington are also on the list of cottage hunters who have been here within the last few days.

Mrs. John R. Drexel, who gave a dinner in honor of her guest Mrs. Arthur Iselin; Mrs. Lewis Quantin Jones, Mrs. Theodore F. Kane, Miss O'Brien Jones, Commander and Mrs. William V. Pratt, Mrs. French E. Chadwick, Mrs. Reginald Norman, Mrs. Julian McCarty Little, Mrs. Arthur Curtis James, Mrs. J. J. Mason, Mrs. William Grosvenor, Mrs. Thomas Hitchcock and Mrs. William Edgar were included in this week's list of social entertainers.

During the week the season of surprise parties, popular with the villa colony last year, was opened. Miss Margaret F. Andrews, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul A. Andrews, who is to be one of the season's debutantes, arranged the party, and Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Curtis James were the season's first "victims."

Among the visitors here early in the week was the Duke of Leeds, who was one of a yachting party being entertained aboard the Diana by Commodore C. Ledyard Blair.

SUMMER SPORT AT THE PIER.

Country Clubs at Narragansett Opened for the Season.

NARRAGANSETT PIER, R. I., June 22.—There have been many arrivals of cottagers at the Pier this week and several of the clubs at Narragansett and the large hotels have opened their doors for the season.

The Point Judith Country Club, which is a favorite resort for the members of the cottage colony, is now open and golf and tennis are popular diversions at Wildfield Farm. Four new tennis courts have been added at the Country Club, making thirteen altogether. The golf links are in fine condition. Golf and tennis tournaments in addition to the national polo matches will be features of the summer schedule of sports at Narragansett.

Charles C. Rumsey of Hempstead, L. I., who is a member of the polo contingent at Newport and Narragansett, has rented a cottage on Ocean road for the season. Robert A. Strawbridge of Philadelphia, a member of the Bryn Mawr polo team, will occupy W. M. Evans's the Browns, at Fairport. Mr. and Mrs. James Sprunt of Wilmington, N. C., have returned to the Pier, and will occupy the cottage at Kentara Green.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank S. Ellis, former cottagers here, have sailed for Europe and will remain abroad for the summer. Mr. and Mrs. Saunders D. Jones of Louisville, Ky., have arrived at their cottage on the rocks.

IN THE BERKSHIRES.

Many Arrivals of Cottagers—Social Events of the Week.

LENOX, June 22.—Bright days which have followed the worst weather in many seasons brought renewed gaiety and incidents to the Berkshires.

The hills seem to attract those who set out on wedding tours and each hotel has had its quota of newlyweds. At Hotel Aspinwall are Mr. and Mrs. Francis B. Hamlin of New York, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel J. Graham of Greenwich, Conn., and Mr. and Mrs. M. H. Parsons of Hartford, all on wedding journeys.

Just now pink and white laurel, which can be found in abundance along almost every mountain motorway, is a decoration of automobiles passing in and out of the Berkshires. In no part of the land does on the Stokes field. The date is two weeks earlier than before and at a season when Lenox foliage is usually at its best. The officers elected by the kennel club were: president, Henry Hollister Pease; vice-president, William D. Curtis; secretary and treasurer, Frederick S. DeWolf; executive committee, the Messrs. Dana, Miss Isabel Snotter, George W. Folson and Harry Peters. F. L. E. Kemp has been engaged as the managing director and will go to Lenox after the Newport show.

The first of the golf teas at the Stockbridge Golf Club was given this afternoon by Mrs. Arnold Becker and Miss Grace Sedgwick. Among the guests were Mr. and Mrs. Joseph H. Choate, Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Chester French, Mrs. Clarence H. Mackay, Mr. and Mrs. Porton J. Van Rensselaer, Mr. and Mrs. Edward L. Morse and Mrs. Oscar Isaght. The teas will be given each Saturday during the summer.

Dinner entertainments have been given this week by Mr. and Mrs. Frank Sturges by Mrs. J. Frederick Schenck, who entertained for Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Williams of Lawrence, L. I., by Mr. and Mrs. Joseph H. Choate, who entertained for Mr. and Mrs. Goodhue Livingston and Charles Allen Munn, and by Mr. and Mrs. Robert W. Patterson. There were many small luncheons.

A number of the cottagers engaged special watchmen this week following the burglary at the residence of Mrs. William H. Bradford. No trace of the thieves has been found. The loss in silver was fully $1,200.

Mr. and Mrs. Max E. Butler and Miss Vera Butler have arrived at their home in Pittsfield, Mr. and Mrs. Titus E. Eddy have opened their country home in Pittsfield, Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Whiting have arrived at their summer residence in Lenox, Dr. and Mrs. Frank L. West of Brooklyn have opened their villa on South street in Pittsfield.

There have been many arrivals of cottage people in the Berkshires this week. Mr. and Mrs. Edward R. Lancaster arrived at the Pierson cottage in Pittsfield, the Misses Jane F. and Emily L. Tuckerman of New York are at Learned cottage at Otis Lake, Mr. and Mrs. David Canavan of New York are at the Peters villa and Mr. and Mrs. David Lydig at Thimblewood.

Among the equestrians have been George E. Turnure with his daughters, Newbold Morris with his sons, Giraud Foster with Giraud Foster, Jr., and Mrs. W. Roscoe Bonsal with her son and daughter.

Mrs. George Westinghouse has promised to raise a new flag on the summit of Jacob's Ladder on the Fourth of July. Mrs. Westinghouse raised a flag on the mountain top in September, 1910, when the State highway was opened to travel, and the cities and towns from the House and Connecticut river valleys made much of the event.

Among those who have been in the Berk-
